Mission #	 PORTRAYAL	Achieved Mission
		YES	NO
1	Record a clip of you guys saying "hello, how are you?" in different languages, you need to write a sigh with the message in the language you choose, show it to the camera and make sure you include something distinctive or traditional (could be an element or something in your costume) from the country and the culture where the language is spoken. Use virtual platforms to get the correct pronunciation and practice a lot before recording your video
2	¡Show off your cooking skills! look for a simple and traditional recipe from a different country or a different ethnicity and record a short tutorial of how to make it.
3	Many cultures have long-standing traditional ways to celebrate birthdays. Do your research and recreate the one you guys find the most interesting as you provide a short review of such tradition and the culture where it's held.
4	handcrafts time! create the coolest Banner ever to celebrate diversity, think of an inspiring quote (for example: together we can change the world / we celebrate diversity / we all smile in the same language... whatever) this, using only recycled materials make it as colorful and creative as you can, then take a picture of it. Available points: 10 5. Use Photoshop to recreate a visit to whatever landmark you'd like to visit, once you have the perfect picture of you rocking The Eiffel tower or the Taj Mahal or whatever incredible place you want to feature post it on Facebook with a nice and creative caption where you describe "your experience"

6	Find a friend from another country and teach them a cool sentence related to culture diversity in Spanish as he teaches you to say something in their language, record a clip of your meeting as you introduce yourselves, exchange knowledge and feature the event. (use Tandem, pen pal English Mocha or any other platform you know to exchange languages and cultures) it should take no more than one minute.
7	Trivia challenge "ask a passerby 10 countries and their capitals " make sure you choose a random person from the street.
8	Prepare a gallery on your cellphoce with the 7 wonders of the world and look for people on the street who can tell their names and where they are located, any extra fact about them is more than welcome! You will have to ask as many people as it takes until you get a correct answer of all of them.
9	pretend you are a travel blogger and you are about to provide some curious and important cultural facts about a random county you're about to visit, so remember to teach your subscribers what cultural aspects to keep in mind before travelling (3 tips mínimum)
10	Choose a traditional dance or sport from anywhere around the world (Capoeira from Brazil, Hula dance from Fiji, Rugby from the British colonies, belly dancing from Egypt. Etc.) and create a short performance, don't forget to include a nice review to contextualize you viewers about it.
