The mood of poems and stories.

Remember – The feelings we get when we read a stories or a poem is called the mood.
For example: happiness, sadness, anger, excitement, hope, fear, tension, laughter, gloom etc.

Read the poem verses given below. In each case, click on the box shown and select the mood of the verse.

Where is my father?
Where is my mother?
I feel so lonely.
Have they forsaken me?

Be glad your nose is on your face,
not pasted on some other place.
For if it were where it is not,
you might dislike your nose a lot.

Row, row, row your boat,
Gently down the stream,
Merrily, merrily, merrily, merrily,
Life is but a dream.

Behind every dark cloud,
there is a silver lining.
Gloom and doom,
someday, will turn into blooms.

Go away! Go away!
Don't come near.
I lock my door to keep me here,
until I am sure you disappear.

It appears in the dark of the night,
While everyone is asleep.
See it you might.
If you do,
just keep out of sight.
