A FRIENDSHIP TO CHERISH

Hanna and I have known each other for almost six years. Our families have been neighbours in the same residential areas since we were nine. Our parents became close, too because there was a need for help and to help each other. At the time, we went to the same primary school which was just nearby.

However, we attended different secondary schools. I gained entry into a boarding school in Taiping while my friend was accepted to another one in Ipoh. We made up for lost time during the school holidays. 36 We spent the time discussing our lessons and chatting, too.

One day, my mother informed me of the news. Hanna's father had been given a promotion and the family had to move to Putra Jaya. 37 We were like sisters, always seen and doing things together. When we had to part ways to go to school, we know that we would meet again during holidays. Moving to another place meant that there would be less opportunities for us to spend time together during the holidays. I would be going back North whereas she had to go down South.

On the last day before the move, Hanna slept at my house. 39 We laughed and we cried. We promised to keep our friendship through emails and phone messages. The next day had to be faced. It was an emotional and tearful time for both of us when Hanna's father drove away.

After a year, we still missed each other although we did have some telephone conversations. 40 It was such a short meeting but at least we got the chance to be in each other's company. We looked forward to the time when we would be able to meet again.

- A We only met once when her family stopped on their way to her grandparents' house.
- B We talked and reminisced the past time.
- C We could travel to the same destinations on our own.
- D The two ways were completely in opposite directions.
- E We could not talk so we just slept.
- F It was shattering to both of us.
- G We would meet every day either at my house or hers.
- H My mother, a housewife would always be the one to fetch us from school.
