Part A: The underlined word is wrong. Write the correct answer.

I (0) interview Jimmy Jackson about his very amusing hobby last week. He (1) tell me he had a website for misheard lyrics where people (2) sent him the lyrics they thought they had (3) hear in a song. When I spoke to him, Jimmy (4) say that mistakes could happen even with very simple lyrics. For example, he said that the lyric, 'With or without you' in the U2 song (5) is misheard by someone as 'We thought we found you'. One of his favourites, he (6) tell me, was from the same song. The actual lyric is 'Sleight of hand and twist of fate...', but one person thought it was 'Slice of ham and piece of cake...'. Jimmy said that (7) my site was very popular. He also (8) informs me that he would soon be bringing out a book of the funniest misheard lyrics.
