Wednesday, 13th October 2021.
English Year 4.
Relative Pronouns.

We are learning to use relative pronouns; who, which and whose.

You already know
Relative pronoun who is used only for people.
Relative pronoun, which is used for animals or things.
Relative pronoun, whose is used for people to show possession.

These are some more examples:
The man who brought the parcel has left.
My cat caught the rat which ate the cheese.
That is the woman whose shoes was stolen.
Where is the boy who spoke to me just now?
The oranges which I bought yesterday are sour.
That child whose parents are not here is crying.

Steps to success.
Identify the subject or object.
Use the correct relative pronoun for the subject or object.

Complete the sentences.

1. The cat which _____ has a short tail.
2. I have found a purse which _____
3. The bicycle which is _____ does not belong to me.
4. That is the seller who_____
5. I have telephoned the doctor who _____
6. The teacher punished the boys who _____
7. The lady whose _____ was very angry.
8. Jamal, whose _____ is my best friend.
9. The boy whose _____ was only slightly hurt.

LIVEWORKSHEETS