

- read text and predict what will happen next.
- cite evidence in the text that supports their predictions

GARDEN POWER: PREDICTIONS

Read the story then make a prediction as to what might happen next.

Martin planted flower seeds in his garden. He wanted to grow red and yellow flowers. Martin put the seeds in the dirt. He watered his garden every day. After one week, nothing grew. After two weeks, nothing grew. After three weeks, Martin could see a small root poking up above the dirt.

Your prediction.

What evidence from the story supports your prediction?