Australia is a huge country and it has a lot of different kinds of (1) _____. In the past, the Aboriginal people of Australia ate animals like crocodiles and some insects like the witchetty grub. Aboriginal Australians travelled around the Australian countryside, or 'bush', to find food.

When the first British and Irish people moved to Australia in the 1830s, they brought sheep and cows from Europe. They also brought traditional English and Irish recipes. Many of these (2) _____, like fish and chips and (3) _____ pies, are still popular today. They also created new Australian recipes such as the pavlova (a fruit dessert - named after a Russian dancer) and damper (a bread cooked in the bush).

After 1945, a lot of people came to live in Australia from countries like Italy, Germany, Greece, Thailand and India. They brought recipes with them and Australians began to eat and drink different things. People started to drink (4) _____ coffee and eat Mediterranean and Asian food.

A lot of modern Australians love (5) _____ with fresh food. They often cook food on (6) _____ in their gardens or on the beach. Today more people also eat (7) _____ food like kangaroo and (8) _____. Mark Olive, an Aboriginal chef, has a popular TV (9) _____ programme about traditional; (10) _____ food. There are always new recipes to try in Australia!

Humans have a long history of eating insects, and it turns out that they can be a very (1) _____ part of a person's regular (2) _____. Insects have a lot of protein, and they are often easier to catch than

(3) _____ animals. Therefore, it is no wonder that when our ancient (4) _____ saw some tasty worms or grubs wiggling on the ground, they made a quick snack of them.

In Thailand, insects are a regular part of the street food that can be found. The different (5) _____ that people snack on are crickets, grasshoppers, giant water bugs, and assorted worms. They are often deep-fried and salted, so they have a crunchy texture that makes them a perfect snack food. If you can get past the (6) _____ that you are eating a cricket, it will crunch in your mouth just like a corn chip!

For a lot of people, however, it is difficult to get (7) _____ the fear of eating insects. People tend to see insects as invaders, especially when they are crawling on the food that we are about to eat. (8) _____ being able to eat insects (9) _____ feeling disgusted is cultural. Some people cannot eat French cheese or stinky tofu because they weren't brought up doing so. To many of us, insects fall right into that category, making it difficult to even try them.

If (10) _____ the chance, though, be courageous, insects can be nutritious and tasty, so long as you can get over the "yuck" factor.
