IS IT A BIG MISTAKE TO USE A WRONG COLLOCATION?

It would sound strange if someone said, "huge rain" "large decision" "finish a habit" or "do a mistake." Most people would understand the meaning, but native English speakers would never combine words in that way. There is no grammatical reason why. And that sometimes makes collocations difficult for English learners. If you don't know, for example, that "big decision" is a collocation, it is not so easy to guess.

DO... COLLOCATIONS

do the housework
do the laundry
do the dishes (also "wash the dishes")
do the shopping
do the right thing
do your best
Do business with somebody

WHAT IS A COLLOCATION?

A collocation is when two or more words naturally go together and sound correct together. Nice weather is an example of a collocation. We don't say pretty weather in English, even though NICE and PRETTY are synonyms. They are ARBITRARY and we need to memorise them, there is no rule...
typical collocation: heavy rain
Not: thick rain
typical collocation: high temperature
Not: tall temperature

MAKE ? DO? TAKE?

Do, make, and take are used in combination with hundreds of words such as: experiment (do an experiment), test (take a test), noise (make a noise) You can find some typical MAKE and DO collocations below.
