Biology

Ecology Review Worksheet

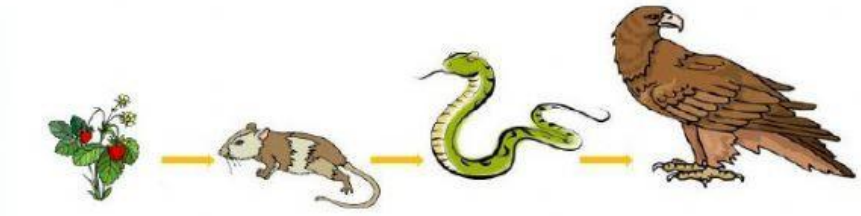

Instruction: Write the name of the correct term in the space provided. Use the word box below to help you.

community		decomposers	ecosystem	habitat
herbivore	niche	omnivore	population	scavenger

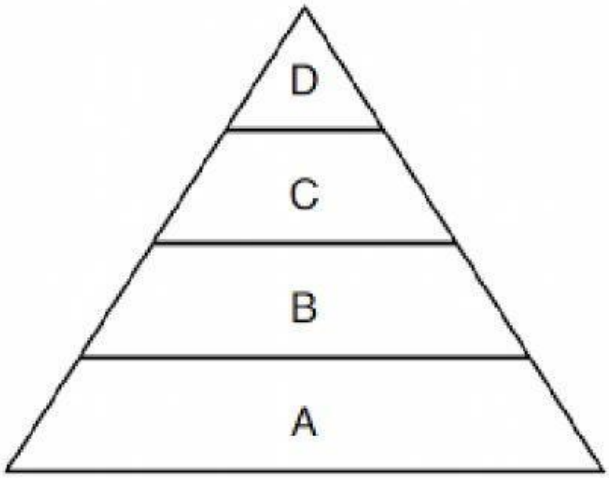

1. A group of independent organisms in a particular environment form a (an) _____.
2. Organisms that break down complex compounds and dead tissue are _____.
3. All the living and non-living things in a selected area form a (an) _____.
4. The particular environment to which a particular species lives is its _____.
5. The special role or place an organism has in its habitat is its _____.
6. An animal that eats both plants and animals is called a _____.
7. Members of a single species that occupy a common area form a (an) _____.
8. Animals that feed on only dead organisms are _____.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Instructions: Match each of the following questions with the letter on the diagram that best answers the question. Write the correct letter on the line to the left of each question. Refer to the food chain below to help you answer some questions.

___ 9. Which level receives energy directly from the sun?

___ 10. Which level represents a plant eater?

___ 11. Which level has the most energy available?

___ 12. Which levels represent predators?

___ 13. Which levels represent prey?

___ 13. Which level best represents the snake in the food chain diagram above?

___ 15. Which level best represents the strawberry bush in the food chain diagram above?

LIVEWORKSHEETS