1) Read the first sentences. Fill in the blanks on the second sentences using the modal given in capital letters to give the same meaning as the first:

1. It is possible that the thief escape through the back door. (MAY) _____ through the back door.

2. With this new clue it is possible that the detectives catch the thief (MAY) _____ catch the thief

3. If you didn't reorganize your defense it is possible that you fail (COULD) _____ you didn't reorganize your defense.

4. Perhaps the judge leave the case (MIGHT) _____ the case.

2)Read the sentences and rewrite them by correcting the grammar mistakes.

a) May the detective be close to find the guilty

b) I think that could I convince the judge.

c) Might he win the case if he continued studying

3. Draw a line connecting each phrase in the left column with a phrase in the right column to make complete sentences.

a. It could be a closed case	1. ... if he didn't follow the interrogation protocols.
b. The criminal could be telling the truth	2. ... if we proved that the gorilla did it.
c. The detective could be in a big trouble	3. ... If the judge decided to act fast.
d. This case could be the most famous	4. ... if we checked his alibi..

LIVEWORKSHEETS