B. There are quite a lot of jokes connected with Halloween. In some of them the humour results from the fact that some words are pronounced in the same way although they are spelt differently. Here's an example:

- Why did Dracula take cold medicine?
- To stop his coffin. (sounds like "coughing")

Make two-line jokes by matching a question from column A with an answer from column B.

- 1. What do you call a witch who lives at the beach?
- 2. Why didn't the skeleton dance at the Halloween party?
- 3. What are ghosts' favourite kind of streets?
- 4. What happens when two vampires meet?
- 5. What do you call a little monster's parents?
- 6. What's it like to be kissed by a vampire?
- 7. What's it called when a vampire has trouble with his house?
- 8. What is a witch's favourite subject at school?
- 9. What do you call a monster who poisons corn flakes?
- 10. Why didn't the skeleton cross the road?
