

Match examiner's questions with the best fitting answers.

Are you studying English at a school?	It's a more flexible way of studying especially if you have a job ... tuition fees are usually cheaper ... but you have to be very motivated ... and I would imagine more people fall behind with their studies compared to face-to-face classes ...
Would you say you are a good student?	Yes ... I'm taking an intensive course at a local private language school ... I attend classes three times a week ...
When you were younger did you enjoy your time at school?	Yes ... I liked school ... it was an ordinary state school ... nothing special ... a single-sex school ... which I'm not sure I liked ... but the teachers were great ... I had lots of friends and I never played truant like some pupils there ...
What qualities do you think a good teacher has?	They should be patient ... they should be subject specialists and be able to explain the subject clearly ... they should give feedback quickly ... for example not hang on to essay for ages like some of my teachers ...
What are the advantages of studying on a distance learning course?	I'm OK I think ... I'm pretty good at meeting deadlines and I'm keeping up with my studies ... plus I find it quite easy to learn things by heart which is useful when learning a language ...
Do all children get equal opportunities in education?	In my country I think it is quite equal but in the UK I've heard that most people who go to the top universities have studied at public schools ... you have to be very rich to study in a school like that ... they're usually boarding schools as well so the fees are enormous ...