HOLLYN - ALONE

Fell for You first day that I You

Never that I ever could forget You

But black and white make a mess when it turns to grey

Sunlight came sweepin' cross the window

Rewind to the time when we so close

Got me longin' for .

But Lord, you me so well

I can be a little punk sometimes

But don't me, leave me alone

Bust down the door to my heart like it's Your home

Don't no keys

I'm on my knees

Begging You please

I've gotta settle this thing once and for all

You my heart my soul You can have it all

I'm on my knees

Beggin' You please

Beggin' You please Lord, don't me alone

Don't leave me .

Through the tears, through the pain a new day

Blown away still You pursue me

Ain't no limit to the way You love

Lord, I You like a heartbeat

(Concrete) rock-solid under my feet

And You're callin' me, you're callin' me up

Oh, 'cause You (You) know me (oh, you know me) so well (so well)

And I can be a little punk .

So don't leave me, leave me alone

Bust down the door to my like it's Your home

Don't need no keys

I'm on my knees

Begging You .

I've gotta settle this thing once and for all

You got my heart, my soul, you can it all

I'm on my knees

Beggin' You please

Beggin' You please Lord, don't leave me alone

I you had me in Your arms but I through the grasp

But yep, I had You in my heart but I I relapsed

Like I'm livin' for the wrong reasons, through the seasons

Tryna fall for You but then they me on blast

It's like I try to speak my mind because I that I'm His

And yep I try to my mind but it fly with them kids

Man, if I'm not talkin' bout the newest Nikes or releases

They put the mute on me, I speak about my Jesus?

Like I'm living for Him, I'm slippin to sin

I turn around and the amends

I try to fit it; I it up and stumble again

I'm takin' this pen

And everything so I just how sweet that it is

Yeah man, I got issues, I can't even lie

My only grace is knowing I got You inside

I'm done with saving face; I don't get a thing to hide

So don't leave me alone, keep coming day and night

Don't me, leave me alone
