My hobby

Three young people explain why they love making art

Ellie

I only became interested in drawing because my brother asked me to join an art club with him. At first, we didn't know how to draw anything, but the other members helped us. There's also so much help online that we learnt how to do some things from there too. Now I only want to draw my pets. My friends don't understand why I do my hobby so much, but they love it when I give them one of my pictures.

Tilda

I first became interested in drawing when my granny gave me some colour pencils. Since then I've drawn hundreds of pictures. What I love about making art is that if what I'm drawing isn't very good, it's not a big problem. I just practise drawing it again. I now put my own art videos online. My last one was about the best way to draw faces, and thousands of people have watched it! That made me really happy – I want all young people to be interested in making art.

Nora

A few years ago, I got an art set for my birthday. I was very excited to use it, since I loved doing art projects at school, and now I could do them at home! And actually, I still think making art is amazing! These days I enjoy painting anything from people to buildings. I also don't mind that it takes weeks to finish a painting. I love that part – waiting to see what it will finally look like.

Part 3: questions 1 – 5

For each question, choose the correct answer.

Rafiah Sharma – teenage actor

15-year-old Rafiah Sharma has acted in 12 Bollywood movies – films about India where the actors speak an Indian language called Hindi

People think it's amazing that I have time to be an actor as well as a student, but actually, it's not that difficult. Many adults say young people should just do their school work and pass their exams, but I think it's important to get some work experience too. I mean, I'll have to get a job when I leave school, so why not earn some money before then?

I act in Indian movies known as 'Bollywood' movies. They're all made in England, but everyone in the movies is Indian. I was only eight when I got my first small part in a Bollywood film, and I only had to say a few words. Since then, I've had bigger parts, and now I spend weeks and weeks trying to remember all my lines.

My parents are awesome! They drive me to my classmates' houses, as well as the studios, and pick me up when I finish filming. And they don't even ask me to tidy my room. They think I'm good at acting and hope I'll be famous one day. But in case that doesn't happen, they don't want me to stop studying when I'm 18.

My next movie is called Mumbai Moon. In this film, I'll be a teenage girl who wins a dance competition and the prize is a holiday. She doesn't want anyone to know about the competition, so she can't practise at home. She dances in the sports hall after school with her partner. I hope everyone will love watching it!

- 1 What do we learn about Rafiah in the first paragraph?
 - A She believes that it's good to do some work while she's a student.
 - B She thinks it's hard for students to find jobs while they're still at school.
 - C She says it's easy to get good grades at school.
- 2 What does Rafiah say about the movies she now acts in?
 - A She works with both English and Indian actors.
 - B She needs plenty of time to learn all her lines.
 - C She had a lot to do in her first movie.
- 3 Rafiah says that her parents
 - A would prefer her to study at university.
 - B are pleased with what she has done until now.
 - C want her to spend more time with her friends.
- 4 In Mumbai Moon, Rafiah will
 - A travel around the world.
 - B do some dances.
 - C play a sports star.
- 5 What is the writer doing in this text?
 - A giving advice to teenagers who want to become actors
 - B describing the famous actors she works with
 - C talking about her life as a young actor
