Gaudi was born in Catalonia, Spain, in 1852. ㉠As a child, he was fascinated by the natural wonders of the surrounding countryside. Gaudi took an interest in architecture at a young age and studied architecture in Barcelona, the city which would become home to his greatest works.

Gaudi's designs were deeply influenced by forms in nature. He understood that the natural world is full of curved lines, rather than straight lines. As a result, most of his constructions use curved stones and animal- or plant-shaped designs. Gaudi's work is also known for its use of bold colors. He decorated many of his buildings with ㉢[colorful/colorless] tiles. This combination of natural designs and bright colors create a breathtaking visual experience. Here are some of Gaudi's greatest works, all of which are found in the city of Barcelona.
