GHS Form 4 IT

Software, User Interfaces

ENTER NAME & FORM:

_____

1. Drag the correct term from the list for each of the following definitions below:

a. A set of programs that governs the operations of a computer _____.

b. Programs that increase the efficiency of a computer system and other tasks _____.

c. A type of application software that can be used for a common variety of tasks _____.

d. Programs that allow the user to carry out a specific task _____.

e. A software that is designed to perform a specific or special task _____.

f. Programs that allow the computer to run properly and efficiently _____.

g. A software written to meet the needs of a company or business _____.

h. Software that converts programming language instructions into machine language _____.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

2. For each of the following software below, select whether it is an application or system software:

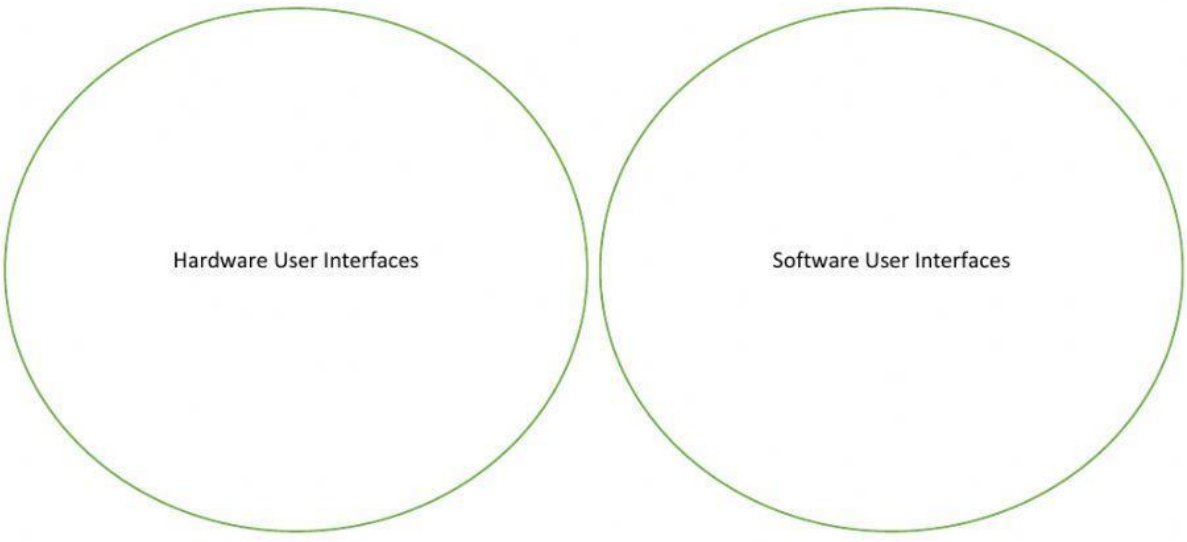

a. Google Chrome	Application	System
b. AVG Antivirus	Application	System
c. Microsoft Office	Application	System
d. Windows 11	Application	System
e. Translators	Application	System

3. Match the following features of an Operating system:

Multitasking	Each user is given time to get the full attention of the CPU
Multiprocessing	Running two or more programs using a single processor
Timesharing	Running several tasks at the same time
Multiprogramming	Running two or more programs using multiple processors

4. From the list provided, drag the different interfaces into their respective category of User Interface.

Command-driven Touch-Screens Menu-driven Sensors
Graphical-UI Mouse/Mice Braille-Keyboard Speech-Synthesis

LIVEWORKSHEETS

5. Select a suitable user interface from the list provided:

a) This type of keyboard can be used by persons in a fast food restaurants _____.

b) This type of keyboard can be used by someone in an office or business who is constantly using a keyboard _____.

c) This type of keyboard can be used by persons who are blind _____.

d) This hardware interface can be used by disabled persons by using head movements to communicate with the computer _____.

e) This hardware interface can be used by visually impaired users to dictate typed or scanned documents _____.

Ensure you entered your name at the top of Page One.
Click Finish, check your answers and click "Email copy to teacher"

LIVEWORKSHEETS