Hi Nora,
I hope you are well because I'm not. I'm having problems with Francis and I really need your advice. You know how she tends (1) _____ lie sometimes. Well, the (2) _____ day, some friends had a small get-together. I couldn't go but Francis really wanted to. She told me that she would lie to her parents so she could go and of course I (3) _____ with the idea. In the end, she told her parents that she would be at my house and went to the get-together. Francis sent me an SMS explaining everything but it (4) _____ that I never got it. The next day I sent her a message asking her if she had had a good time. Her brother saw it and told their parents. The final (5) _____ was when her mother called me and started asking me questions. It was quite (6) _____ because I didn't know what to say and she realised something was up. Francis got in trouble and now she isn't talking to me. Also, I've heard that she's saying some (7) _____ things about me. Imagine that! It's not like I (8) _____ a crime. And anyway, it's not my fault she lied to her parents. What should I do?
