

A/AN/SOME/ANY

	AFFIRMATIVE (+)	NEGATIVE (-)	INTERROGATIVE (?)
SINGULAR (is)
a = un / una	There's a butterfly (hi ha una papallona)	There isn't a butterfly (No hi ha una papallona)	Is there a butterfly? Yes, there is No there isn't an = un / una (s'utilitza quan la paraula comença per vocal)	There's an ant (Hi ha una formiga)	There isn't an ant (No hi ha una formiga)	Is there an ant? Yes, there is No, there isn't
PLURAL (are)
Some = alguns/algunes (s'utilitza només en frases afirmatives (+)).	There are some bees. (Hi ha algunes abelles)	-----	-----
Any = cap o algun/alguna (s'utilitza en frases negatives (-) i interrogatives (?)).	-----	There aren't any bees (No hi ha cap abella)	Are there any bees? (Hi ha alguna abella?)

- With the information from the table try to put the correct words into the gaps.

- There's _____ elephant in the zoo.
- Are there _____ apples in the kitchen?
- There _____ any snails in the garden.
- There _____ a spider in my room.
- There are _____ children in the park.
- _____ there a grasshopper in the garden?
- _____ there any students in the classroom?
- There isn't _____ ant in the path.
- There aren't _____ tomatoes in the community garden.
- _____ there an octopus in the beach?

k) There some olives in my salad.

l) There any worms in the ground.

- Now, translate into English these sentences

(+singular) Hi ha una papallona.

(+plural) Hi ha alguns saltamartins.

(- plural) No hi ha cap abella.

(?singular) Hi ha un cuc?

(?plural) Hi ha alguna formiga?