Chapter 8 (Part 2)

She says her name is _____ Malone and she is full of questions and a romantic interest in Bud. She is a child who has learned from her time on the road and passes on her comments to Bud as a way to help him learn what he will face. Then, she leaves him with his first _____. She smiles and takes his hand and leads him back to the _____. On the way there, they hear the mouth organ playing "Shenandoah." She recites the lyrics, and he agrees with her that it's a sad _____. When Bugs sees Bud, he asks what's happened, because the younger boy looks like he's been chunked in the head with a _____. The man with the mouth organ tells the boys that if they're heading out on the west-bound _____ for Chicago, they'll need to get up by 5:15. They find a _____ filled with boys and bed down there. Bugs falls asleep immediately, but Bud has a harder time of it. He takes out his blanket and checks all his belongings to make sure they're still there. He opens the tobacco _____ which holds the _____ he found in a drawer after the ambulance took his mother away. He pulls his blanket over his head and breathes in very deeply the smells of the blanket, the smells that reminded him of his momma and how she used to _____ to him every night. Suddenly, Bud is awakened with a man's screams telling them all to get awake, because "they're" (the authorities) trying to _____ the train out early. Bugs tells Bud to hurry, because they have to get on that train. Bud puts everything in his _____ and ties it shut. Bud decides to wait until they hop the _____ and then return the blue flyer to the case. He just tucks it between the rope and the case itself. They break out of the _____. When Bud pushes his way to the front of the crowd, he sees four cop cars and eight cops standing between the crowd and the train. One of the cops _____ at them that they can't get on this train and to go back to their Shantytown. Bugs gets on first and yells to Bud to throw him his _____. Bud uses both hands to throw it up there, but the blue flyer escapes the rope ties and blows right back at Bud. It makes Bud slow down, fold it, and put it in his pocket. Meanwhile, Bugs screams for him not to slow down. But it's too late. Bugs picks up Bud's suitcase and throws it back out at him. Bud props himself down by the tracks and watches the _____ chugging on to Chicago. When Bud reaches the camp, he and the others who missed the train spread out in the woods and watch from behind _____ as the cops destroy the makeshift town. Bud sits down a distance away and looks again at the blue flyer. Then, he reminds himself that he's on the _____ and heads for the mission for breakfast.
