It was November, and three friends were on a walking holiday in the Lake District. It was seven o'clock in the evening and starting to get dark. They needed _____ (някъде) to spend the night. Jim looked at the map. 'There's _____ (никъде) within two hours walk of here,' he said. 'Let's camp in this field then,' suggested Sarah. 'Good idea,' agreed Chris, sitting down on the grass. 'I'm exhausted. Can I have _____ (нещо) to eat?'
'What do you want?' Sarah asked.
'I don't mind. _____(каквото и да е)!' replied Chris. 'I've had _____ (нищо) since breakfast.' Then he turned round. 'That's strange. I thought I heard _____ (някой).'
'No, there's _____ (никой) around here,' said Sarah. 'Just us. Maybe you heard a rabbit.' An hour later _____ (всички) was fast asleep inside the tent.
The next morning, as Chris was making tea, Sarah came out of the tent looking confused. 'Did _____ (някой) touch my camera last night?' she asked.
Jim and Chris shook their heads. 'Is _____ (нещо) wrong?' asked Jim.
Sarah didn't say _____ (нищо) - she just held out the camera so _____ (всички) could see the picture. It showed all three friends fast asleep in their sleeping bags.
_____ (никой) said _____ (нищо) for a few moments. Then Sarah started packing her bag. 'It's time to go,' she said.
'Where?' asked Jim.
'_____, (където и да е)' replied Sarah. 'Let's just grab _____ (всичко) and go!'

3. Complete the dialogue with indefinite pronouns

Sarah	Look, _____ must have taken that photo.
Chris	Perhaps _____ went wrong with the camera.
Sarah	It was in my bag when we went to bed!
Jim	Maybe _____ came into the tent during the night and took the photo.
Chris	Was _____ missing from your bag? Money?
Sarah	No, _____. _____ is still here.
Chris	I knew _____ strange was going on. I'm sure I heard _____ walking around. Don't you remember, Sarah?
Sarah	Yes, I do remeber. But I couldn't see _____ in the field.
Chris	But even if _____ was in the field, that doesn't really explain _____. How did they open the tent without waking us up?
Jim	And how did they find the camera? Perhaps they were looking for _____ to steal.
Sarah	But they didn't take _____ - and there was plenty of money in the bag. It's very odd! Are you sure it isn't one of your jokes, Chris? _____ knows you love tricking people.
