Questions 18 to 20

The turtle and tortoise are important to us. This is because they are part of the food chain. However, they are decreasing in numbers. We must protect them so that they do not disappear from the earth.

They are both reptiles and cold blooded. They lay eggs in the ground. Both the tortoise and turtle do not have any teeth.

The tortoise lives on land but the turtle lives in water. The tortoise has round stumpy feet which help it to move on land. The turtle has webbed feet to help it swim in water.

The tortoise's shell is large and dame-shaped to protect it from its enemies. However the turtle's shell is flat and streamlined to help it swim well in the sea.

18. Why are the turtle and tortoise important to us?
