HELPING OTHERS

My name is Karam and I love helping.

Most people I work with are old people, living alone. They need help with some jobs that they can't do themselves anymore. But they often need someone to talk to as well. Sometimes we are the only people they meet for days. They tell us their troubles and always wait our visits.

But why do so many old people live alone? You may wonder. Well, usually it's because their husband or wife has died. Their sons and daughters got and moved away. Old people often don't want to leave their homes. Although most of them still have a family, they don't see each other very often. They might meet on Christmas or Ramadan.

I like what I'm doing, I feel proud at times. I like meeting people and I have met many old people. They are often very interesting to talk to. The main thing is that you feel that you are doing something very useful with your free time.

How about you? Do you like helping old people?
