Research the job preference about a person you know

1. List all the job position vocabulary you know on a sheet. Ask one of your friends or students to look at your list and write down three jobs he/she love to, three he/she wouldn't mind doing and three he/she'd hate to do. But don't let them show you at the beginning. <Speaking and vocabulary>
Vocabulary list:

2. Ask him/her to divide the phrases into the three categories below and understanding his/her job preferences. <Speaking, Listening, and Note taking>

You have to be physically fit.
You have to be good with money/numbers.
You need good people skills.
You have to be very well-organised.
You have to be very creative.
You need special training and qualifications.
You have to work long hours.
It's very secure.
It's well-paid.
It's stressful.
It's very competitive.
It's very challenging.
There's a lot of responsibility.
There are lots of opportunities to travel.

- I would like a job like this.
- I wouldn't mind doing a job like this.
- I wouldn't want a job like this.

3. Suggest some "ideal jobs" to him/her, based on what he/she has told you. Then compare your suggestions with the list your target made in exercise 1. <Speaking and Note taking>

Ideal jobs you suggest to your target:

1)

2)

3)

LIVEWORKSHEETS

4. Write down a short report about your research. <Writing>
   - Talk about what's his/her job preferences
   - Your suggestions and the reasons of your suggestions
   - Discuss the result: does your suggestions match to what your friend/student listed at the beginning?

LIVEWORKSHEETS