

Listening for numbers

I. Listen to Track 05 and complete the dates.

1.   1st   March
2.        November
3.        May
4.        June
5. 5th
6.        July
7.        September
8.        October
9. 20th
10. 23rd
11.        April
12.        December

II. Listen to Track 06 and choose the ordinal number you hear and match the ordinal numbers to these topics. Write them in the chart.

a street, a drink, a birthday, a floor, a date

1.	15 th	21 st	26 th
2.	3 rd	13 th	30 th
3.	5 th	6 th	7 th
4.	50 th	51 st	53 rd	a street
5.	6 th	9 th	16 th

You need to practice one last thing before your two big listening exercises: listening to years. Remember that we usually split (separar) the years in half.

1756 ➡ 17/56 ➡ seventeen fifty-six

1810 ➡ 18/10 ➡ eighteen ten

2020 ➡ 20/20 ➡ twenty twenty

III. Listen to Track 07 and write the years with numbers and letters.

1.
2.   1900   nineteen hundred
3.
4.
5.
6.

With all the activities from Thursday and Wednesday you had a lot of practice listening to numbers. Now you are prepared for two longer conversations. Before that, look at the pictures. What other topics do you think you will hear?

IV. Listen to Track 08 and complete the questions.

1. When was the grandad born?
2. Where was he in 1966?
3. What date was the party?
4. What did they eat?
5. Where were his grandparents?

Now you will listen to a man talking about a museum. Remember to first think about all the vocabulary that you expect to hear. Look at the image to help you.

V. Listen to Track 09 and complete the missing information.

The British Museum opened to the public for the first time in ____<sup>1</sup>. Back then, only ____<sup>2</sup> people a day visited the museum. Things have changed a lot in the past 255 years. The busiest day for the museum in 2013 was Friday ____<sup>3</sup>, when there were 33,848 visitors. And 2013's busiest month was July with 747,036 visits. The most popular exhibition in ____<sup>4</sup> was called, 'Life and Death in Pompeii'. The original target that the museum hoped for was 250,000 people, but by the time the exhibition closed more than 471,000 people had seen the display.

The most popular exhibition ever was in ____<sup>5</sup>, when approximately 1.6 million people paid to see 'Tutankhamen'. Among the thousands of incredible items on display is the famous Rosetta Stone. This is an extremely important text written on a granite slab in 3 languages (Greek, hieroglyphs and Egyptian). The stone dates from 196 BC and arrived at the British museum in ____<sup>6</sup>. You can also see the controversial Elgin Marbles (bought by the museum in ____<sup>7</sup> for £35,000), a statue from Easter Island carved around 1200 AD and a gigantic bust of the Egyptian, Amenhotep III who was Pharaoh from ____<sup>8</sup> to ____<sup>9</sup> BC. In total there were 6,701,036 visits last year, which was a record for the museum. The previous best ever figure was ____<sup>10</sup>, when there were 5.9 m people who came through the British museum doors.
