Unit 4/ Lesson 8/ Reading Comprehension

Read the text and then answer the questions.

Animals are an important part of planet Earth. Without animal life, it is more than likely that we humans would not exist. Protecting them is one of the most important tasks.

Why are animals endangered? Climate change, devastation of natural habitats, uncontrolled hunting, and the mass food industry all contribute to endangering the lives of animals.

However, as average people, we can change things at our level, small daily actions can help to limit this miserable reality. To fight the disappearance of animal species, the entire population must move to protect and preserve those species. This can be possible if we manage to preserve their natural habitats and prohibit illegal hunting. Prey trade generates millions of dollars. Turtles, parrots, reptiles and other animals are captured and then sold on the black market. This has to stop.

The more we start protecting them, the more effective the actions undertaken to preserve endangered species will be.
