SYMPATHY

NAME.....GRADE.....NO.....

A: Hi. Emma. I can't make the presentation today. I had a car accident last night

B: .....Are you OK? Where are you?

A: I'm at home now. I got a taxi downtown last night and another car hit us.

B: ..... Are you hurt?

A: I'm OK, thanks. The ambulance took the taxi driver to hospital. I think he's OK.

B: .... now and get some sleep? I'll take care of the presentation. .....

A: Yeah, I will. Thanks, Emma. What about you? Did you get your driving license?

B: I failed my driving test. I can't believe it.

A: ..... What happened?

B: I made some mistakes. I was really nervous.

A: ..... I think everybody feels nervous before taking their test. I was terrified.

B: I feel so stupid. All my friends have a driving license.

A: .....

B: I suppose so. I can take the test again soon.

A: See? .....

That's awful! That's good news. Oh, I'm sorry.

It's not that bad. Why don't you try to relax

How frightening! Oh dear.

Call me if you need anything.

Cheer up. It's not the end of the world.
