PHRASAL VERBS

(draw out, draw up, drop in, drop off, drop out, eat out, fall for, fall in with, fall out, fall through)

Let's __ ___ tonight, I'm too tired to cook.

She used to ___ ___ for a chat quite often and these days she even doesn't call me.

I think the deal will ___ ____ because we don't have enough money.

Henry asked me to ___ ____ papers to divorce his wife because he decided not to divorce with her anymore.

I'm glad to see that you all ____ ____ ____ me on this question. No one is against.

They ____ ____ once a week at the local café or a cheap restaurant.

Johnny wouldn't tell us what really happened at school. We had to ____ it ___ of him slowly.

He was injured and _____ _____ of the competition.

A big black car ____ _____in front of the house.

This year we are going to ____ ____ _____ a family from Russia. It is going to be a nice meeting.

See, my mother and me, we always ___ ____, we can't live without arguing with each other.

Can you ____ the kids _____ to school this morning? My car needs to be fixed.

Too many students ____ _____of college after only one year because of their bad exam results.