

UNIT 4: LEARNING WORLD

VOCABULARY & LISTENING - Verbs: Studying a language

Interviews: Learning languages

Interviews with Londoners who are learning languages.

Click to listen

Instruction: Listen to the interviews then complete the dialogue below

1 Mario

okay

learning English

listening

not so good

watching TV

Situation 1:

Interviewer: So, Mario you're a football player. Are you _____?

Mario: Yes, I am. Because I live here and I play football here.

Interviewer: What are you doing now?

Mario: I'm _____? It's good for my English.

Interviewer: Is English difficult?

Mario: It's _____. My _____ is _____.

2 Mark and Peter

Arabic	Reading	Yes	writing
	checking new vocabulary	Russian

Situation 2:

Interviewer: Mark, Peter. Police officers in London are learning languages.

Mark and Peter: That's right.

Interviewer: Are you learning the same language?

Mark: No, we aren't. I'm learning _____, and Peter's learning _____.

Interviewer: Why are you studying those languages?

Mark: Because a lot of people from different countries live in London or visit London.

Interviewer: What are you doing now, Mark?

Mark: I'm _____ on the Internet.

Interviewer: Is Russian difficult?

Mark: For me, _____. It's got different letters. _____ and _____ are difficult.

3 Hannah

pronunciation

revising

sound

Mandarin

very difficult

Situation 3:

Interviewer: Hannah, what language are you studying?

Hannah: _____ .

Interviewer: Really? At school?

Hannah: Yes. We've got a teacher from China.

Interviewer: What are you doing now?

Hannah: I'm _____ for my exam, now.

Interviewer: Is Mandarin a difficult language?

Hannah: Yes, it's _____. The _____ , the _____ are difficult. But I like it.

Interviewer: Can you say 'Goodbye' in Mandarin?

Hannah: Yes, Zàijiàn.