

NAME: _____ DATE: _____

9.6.5 A Bet

1.

alternate ['ɔ:lternet] v.

To alternate means to switch back and forth between two things.

→ The best exercise alternates muscle and heart strengthening.

2.

apologetic [ə,pələ'dʒetik] adj.

If someone is apologetic, they are sorry about something.

→ The boy felt apologetic after losing his sister's favorite toy.

3.

benign [bi'nain] adj.

If something or someone is benign, they do not hurt anyone.

→ Many spiders look scary, but most are actually benign.

4.

char [tʃɑ:r] v.

To char means to burn something so that it turns black.

→ While Frank went inside to get the mustard, he accidentally charred the hotdogs.

5.

clarify ['klærəfai] v.

To clarify means to make something easier to understand by explaining it.

→ Drew tried to clarify all the functions of Michelle's new computer.

6.

dogged ['dɒ(:)gid] adj.

When someone's actions are dogged, they try hard to continue something.

→ Her dad bought her a new jacket after her dogged requests for one.

7.

distress [dis'tres] n.

Distress is the feeling of being upset or worried.

→ Failing a class caused the student a lot of distress.

8.

ensue [in'su:] v.

To ensue means to happen after something.

→ After a few minutes of lightening, thunder ensued.

9.

gasp [gæsp] v.

To gasp means to make a noise by quickly breathing in when surprised.

→ John always gasps when watching a scary movie.

10.

negotiate [ni'gouʃieit] v.

To negotiate means to try to make an agreement through discussion.

→ Mario and Joe took a long time negotiating the contract between the companies.

11.

overdose ['ouvərdəʊs] n.

An overdose is an instance of taking or having too much of something.

→ John's skin was burned from an overdose of sunshine.

12.

persuasion [pə'sweɪʒən] n.

Persuasion is the act of making someone do or believe something.

→ The persuasion of his argument convinced the customer to buy the laptop.

13.

relay ['ri:lei] n.

A relay is a race in which teams of runners or swimmers race against each other.

→ Jerry was the fastest on his team, so he ran the last part of the relay.

14.

reluctance [ri'ʌktəns] n.

Reluctance is a feeling of not wanting to do something.

→ Jesse took out the trash with great reluctance.

15.

restate [ri:'steit] v.

To restate something means to say it again or in a different way.

→ Mrs. Jones restated the test question to the class.

16.

sesame ['sesəmi] n.

Sesame is an herb that is grown for its small seeds and its oil.

→ I used the buns with the sesame seeds on them.

17.

sip [sip] v.

To sip something means to drink a small amount at a time.

→ Liza relaxed on the beach, sipping fruit juice through a straw.

18.

verge [və:rdʒ] n.

The verge is the point at which something is about to happen.

→ Joan was on the verge of leaving her house when the phone rang.