

D WRITE

TASK

Example task: 'Air travel is a good idea.'
Write an essay giving arguments for and against this statement.

Introduce the topic.

Express a balanced argument.

Air travel today is a very popular form of transport. However, there are positive and negative aspects of using aeroplanes.

Some people argue that air travel is a good idea, because it allows us to visit other countries quickly and easily. Another advantage is that it is an efficient way of moving goods around the world.

Other people think that air travel has many disadvantages. For example, many scientists say that air travel causes too much pollution. Another problem is that airports can be noisy and unpleasant for the people who live nearby.

In conclusion, I would agree that air travel is convenient. However, I think that it has more disadvantages than advantages because it is damaging the environment.

Mention that there are arguments for and against.

Present arguments in favour of the topic.

Present arguments against the topic.

Give evidence.

Sum up.

Give your opinion.

E CHECK

Check your work for mistakes.

WATCH OUT!

DO include the same number of arguments for and against the topic.

DO NOT express your opinion until the last paragraph.