Hi Mariam,

Are you interested in going skiing this weekend? Some friends and I are going to the Blue Mountain Resort to arrive by 3:00 p.m. Saturday afternoon. It's a two-hour drive, but it's worth it because they always make snow no matter what the weather.

For supper, I think we will go to this neat cheese fondue restaurant in Collingwood. Then we'll drive back so we should get back home before 10:30 p.m.

Have you skied before? If not, you are good at other sports, so I think all you need is a lesson or two. They have hills just for beginners called bunny hills. You can rent everything you need; the afternoon pass and equipment will be about $100. If that's too much for you, let me know. I can pick you up if you want.

Philip
