

1. to stand in a line
2. to have an opportunity to do something or to have time to do something.
3. An action that a player scores a goal or a point, gains a goal or point in a sport or game,
4. a test or an assessment to see how fit someone is.
5. a sports event in which the competitor jumps from one foot and lands on it, then jumps from one foot and lands on the other, and finally jumps with both feet.
6. the main report written by a student for a particular class.

7. a food made from milk, or from a milk-like substance taken from plants, that can be either firm or soft and is usually yellow or white in colour.
8. a spicy pork or beef sausage, used especially on pizza.
9. a meeting of people to discuss and/or to perform practical work.
10. to give a particular job or piece of work to someone.
11. differently, or in another way.
12. unhappy because someone or something was not as good as you hoped or expected, or because something did not happen.

13. a period of time (days or weeks) that requires a lot of energy to get through: you were doing many things, many hours, hard things or stressful things.
14. to get into somewhere without permission.