1 KyivPost

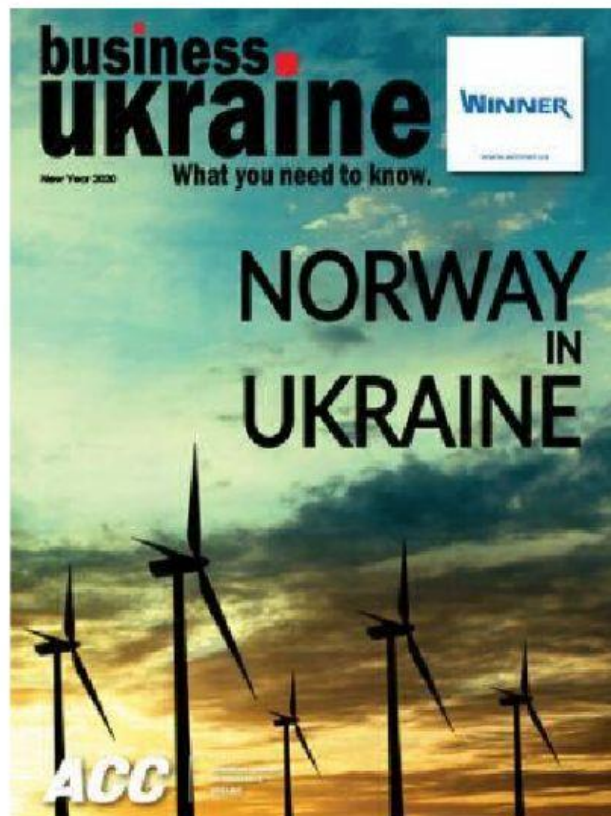

Truly a veteran of the Ukrainian press, the KyivPost was founded in 1995; it was the first English-language newspaper in Ukraine at the time and continues to be published. When the paper started, the writers tried including articles about various topics, ranging from politics and business to entertainment. They soon discovered this combination was an instant hit. The team remembers starting the project quite well and the paper nowadays is just as good. Its circulation is now over 10,000 copies every week. You can find it in Kyiv cafes, restaurants, hotels or business centres.
