Amazing Animal Senses

Many animals can see, hear, smell, taste, and touch—but they do it in a different way from humans.

Imagine you have to walk on your dinner to taste it! Well, a butterfly does—it tastes with its feet!

People use the ends of their fingers to touch. Seals use their whiskers. Their sense of touch is amazing. They can feel fish through the water 180 meters (590 feet) away.

Spiders don't have ears. They hear using hundreds of small hairs on their legs.

We can smell delicious food in front of a restaurant. But we can't smell food that is in a different town! Bears have a fantastic sense of smell. They can smell things that are 32 kilometers (20 miles) away.

Chameleons can see very well—look at their eyes! One eye looks up, and the other eye looks down. They can see all around them.

Read. Check T for True and F for False.

VICKY'S HOLIDAY ON THE FARM

Last week, Vicky went to see her grandparents. She took a train to the countryside because her grandparents live on a farm. They live in a big red house next to a river. When Vicky saw her grandparents, she said, 'Hello, I brought you something. Look in the box.' She smiled and gave them a box. There was a painting in it. 'I painted it for you. It's a whale,' 'Thank you!' said Grandma and Grandpa.

Examples

Vicky took a train to her grandparents' house.
