

Your sense organs

Your sense organs are special parts of your body that help you sense the world around you.

Your sense organs are your:

-
-
-
-
-

Your sense organs collect information about the world around you. This information is sent to your brain.

touch —————