- Listen and join the rhythm with their sound:

A rhythm exercise grid on a light gray grid background. It consists of seven rows. The first row is highlighted with a blue border and contains a quarter note, a quarter note, a quarter rest, and a quarter rest. A black arrow points from the end of this row to a long gray bar. The remaining six rows are also highlighted with blue borders and contain various combinations of quarter notes and quarter rests. To the right of each row is a gray bar representing the sound to be made. The first row has a long bar, while the others have shorter bars corresponding to the rhythm.
