

Singular and Plural Possessive Nouns

To show possession for a singular noun, an apostrophe is added before the s.

The dog's bed

To show possession for a plural noun, an apostrophe is added after the s.

The dogs' bed

Irregular plurals:
add the apostrophe
before the s.

The children's bed.

The mice's house.

Write the possessive form of each of the following:

Singular

(the child of the mother)

(the teeth of the child)

(the noise of the radio)

(the animals of the desert)

(the helper of the builder)

(the uniform of the nurse)

(the car of the man)

Plural

(the owner of the cats)

(the boat of the ladies)

(the guitars of the teachers)

(the houses of the people)

(the work of the students)

(the feathers of the geese)

(the idea of the boys)
