

The Little Red Hen

Once upon a time, there was a little  who lived on a . One day the  found some on the ground. The  had an idea.

She took the  to the other animals in the . "Who will help me to plant these ?" asked the .

"Not I," barked the

"Not I," purred the

"Not I," mooed the

"Then I shall plant the  myself," said the . So the  planted the  all by herself.

When the  had grown, the  asked her friends,

"Who will help me cut the ?"

"Not I," barked the .

"Not I," purred the .

"Not I," mooed the .

"Then I will," said the . So the  cut the all by herself. When all the  was cut, the asked her friends, "Who will help me take the  to the

 to be ground into ?"

"Not I," barked the .

"Not I," purred the .

"Not I," mooed the

"Then I will," said the

. So the

took the

to the all by herself, ground the into

, and carried the heavy :

of

back to the

. The tired

asked her friends,

"Who will help me bake the

?"

"Not I," barked the

"Not I," purred the

"Not I," mooed the

"Then I will," said the

. So the

baked

the

all by herself. When the was finished, the tired  asked her friends, "Who will help me eat the ?"

"I will," barked the .

"I will," purred the .

"I will," mooed the .

"No!" said the . "I will." And the  ate the  all by herself.