1. Teacher: Hello! You must be Pedro's mother.

Teacher: No problem. Please remind Pedro to read his book every night. After he reads, sign his homework book. I will choose books at his reading level.

Teacher: He is improving quickly. We are giving him extra help in reading and listening.

Teacher: Report cards go out three times a year. You'll get the first one in December.

Teacher: Excellent. Do you have any other questions or concerns?

Teacher: Nice to meet you, Alex. Pedro is a pleasure to have in the classroom.

Teacher: Yes, I'm glad you asked. Please make sure he reads his home reading every night. Write your initials in the homework book after he completes his reading.

Parent: Sorry, could you repeat that, please? My English isn't very strong.

Parent: That's good to hear. I'm a bit worried about his English.

Parent: Okay, thank you. We usually read together. I am learning English, too!

Parent: Okay. Is there anything we should be working on at home?

Parent: I don't think so. Oh, yes...when will I get a report card?

Parent: Yes. I'm Alexandra. You can call me Alex.
