Adele Thompson is a 14-year-old girl from Ontario in Canada. She really wants to work in a circus when she's older. She has already learnt to ride a unicycle and swing on a trapeze.

She has been doing gymnastics for nine years and this helps with her trapeze training. She has also been learning ballet since she was four, so this helps with her balance and body control. Apart from doing circus training, Adele studies hard at school. She's been learning to play the saxophone for three years and she speaks three languages: English, French and Mandarin. She has already been to China but she hasn't been to France yet.

Adele's family are very proud of her and excited about her future. Her grandfather was a clown in a circus when he was young. All the training is hard work and it takes a lot of time, but Adele doesn't mind. It's her dream to work in a circus and to travel the world.
