Although it happened a decade .....❸....., this job is one which I will remember forever. It remains in my memory after all .....❹..... years because it taught me how to organize my time as a student in high school and as an employee in a clothes shop. That means, I had school in the daytime and work in the .....❺..... It was important because I .....❻..... how to better organize my timetable.

Most part-time jobs are not particularly exciting or .....❼..... People do them because they just need to save up to go to university or to buy a car. I worked a common teenager job at a popular American clothing store by the name of Old Navy. I loved .....❽..... there and knew I would love working there just as much. I was lucky in that sense, as I really enjoyed my job. Before I started .....❾..... there, I had to do training for a week to learn how to do the job. I had many tasks as a clothes shop worker. .....❿..... of them included things like folding clothing and controlling the dressing room. They .....⓫..... gave me smaller tasks like welcoming customers. All the employees had a 25% discount off the clothes in the store. This was a great way for the company to keep its team of workers .....⓬..... and excited! I bought lots of things there. I still have some of the clothes I bought from Old Navy, always reminding me of my first job.
