

Let's click! Put the questions in the correct paragraph.

New family of frogs discovered!

They are small. They have green skin and yellow speckles. They have two red front legs and two brown back legs. They have big ears.

They eat a lot! They eat small bugs, like flies and mosquitoes. They don't eat fish or snakes, because they are small.

They live in Brazil. They live in water and on land because they are amphibians. They swim in little ponds but they don't climb trees.

Where do they live?

What do they have?

What do they eat?

Let's click! Put the questions in the correct paragraph.

New family of frogs discovered!

They are big. They have blue skin and purple speckles. They have green front legs and black back legs. They have small ears.

They eat small bugs, like flies and crickets. They don't eat butterflies. They eat small animals, because they are big.

They live in Buenos Aires, next to the river. They live in water and on land, because they are amphibians. They don't swim in the river, they swim in little ponds.

What do they have?

Where do they live?

What do they eat?