English Yr 3 Topic: 1.8 Luagan Lalak (Belait's Folktale)

Shared Read 2

He dreamt of meeting a pretty woman. In his dream, she said, "Buyung! Put the fish back where you found it. That is not a fish. It is a Prince. If you do this, you will live a happy life. You will never have to catch a fish again. You will always have fish in your pool."

The next day Buyung woke up early. He remembered his dream. At first, he felt doubtful about letting the fish go. But finally he let the fish go and it swam into the river.

Buyung went back home with disappointment. As he reached his hut, he was very surprised to see his pool full of 'ikan dalak' jumping here and there. Suddenly the pool began to get bigger and bigger as there were a lot of fish.

The small pool changed into a big lake and because it is now filled with 'ikan dalak', it is famously known as 'Luagan Lalak'.

Exercise 1 Answers the comprehension questions.

1. What was the fish actually?

_____

1. What did Buyung do with the fish?

_____

Exercise 2 Below is another Buyung's diary. It is about his dream. Fill in the blank.

told	back	hungry	had	another

Dear Diary,

Last night I _____ a funny dream. A pretty woman _____ me to put the big black fish _____ in the river. I am unsure about this. What will happen if I don't catch _____ fish? I will be _____.

Buyung

LIVEWORKSHEETS