

Making Plans for the Weekend – A Speaking Activity

Part 1. A. Pair-Work: You and your partner are planning an activity for an evening on the weekend. Fill in the below table with information about your activity.

Day & Time (circle one): Friday Evening, Saturday Evening, Sunday Evening

Activity: Location: Details
Guests:

Questions you need to discuss
When are you going to have the activity?
Where are you going to have the activity?
What time is the party going to start?
Who are you going to invite?
What food and drink are you going to serve?
Where are you going to buy the food and drink?
What kind of music are you going to play?

Part 2. Inviting Guests: You want people to come to your activity. Invite your classmates. If they agree to come, put their name in the 'Guests' field above.

Also, your classmates will invite you to their activity. If you don't want to join them, give an excuse (Sorry, I'm afraid I have to...). If you join the activity, put it on your schedule. Once you have a full schedule, you cannot accept any more invitations.

Create an invitation for your classmates