

The Princess and the Pea

Once upon a time, there _____ a prince who _____ with his mother.

The prince was desperate because he couldn't find a princess to marry.

One day, there _____ a knock at the front door. The prince _____ the door to a young woman.

She _____ to come in but the prince _____ because she was not a true princess.

She _____ and eventually he let her in. The queen _____ the young girl to stay and she _____ a bed with 20 mattresses and _____ a green pea under the mattresses. It was a test for the young girl.

The next morning the prince and the queen anxiously _____ the arrival of the princess.

She sat at the table and said that she _____ have a good night sleep because of a lump under the mattresses.

The prince and the queen _____ so happy because the young girl passed the test.

The princess was angry because of the test.

She _____ to get married to the prince because he was mean.

She _____ the castle and _____ off to find another prince.

She _____ a kind prince. They _____ happily ever after and never _____ peas!