Cultural Day in JAPAN

Cultural Day is a festival in Japan. It's held every year on November 3rd. The first Cultural Day was in 1948. Japanese students put on fashion shows and small plays at their schools. Other students sing songs or dance for people to see. Parents can visit schools to look at their children's art and schoolwork. Parents who want their children to go to the school can look around the school, too. It's a very happy and interesting day.
