

Listen to a conversation between three city planners about a name for the vertical city and complete it.

A: What <sup>1</sup> _____ it Mega City? It's easy to remember.

B: Mmm, it's a possible solution, I suppose, but there are <sup>2</sup> _____.
How about Hope City? It's a really good name because it'll provide a lot of housing for poor people. Give them hope for the future.

C: Yeah, Hope City. It <sup>3</sup> _____ to me, I must say. But what other names can we think of?

A: Well, one <sup>4</sup> _____ would be to call it Tower City. That's exactly what it would be – a towering city, one of the highest in the world.

B: I don't know, I'm not too keen on that name. We have one other option, you know. If we <sup>5</sup> _____ Paradise City, I think most people <sup>6</sup> _____ that name. It suggests the city would be a wonderful place to live and work in. That's what we all want, don't we?

C: Mmm, <sup>7</sup> _____, I really like the name.

A: Me too. OK, we all seem to like it. Are we <sup>8</sup> _____ then?
Have we <sup>9</sup> _____? It'll be Paradise City.

B/C: Yeah. Agreed.

A: OK then. I'll <sup>10</sup> _____ the name to the minister. We're all <sup>11</sup> _____. It's the best name.
