

Too & enough

REMINDER:

We use "too" to indicate that something is excessive and "not ... enough" to indicate that something is insufficient.

"It was the best year of Bertie's young life. But when it ended, it ended more painfully than he could ever had imagine." Take a look at the sentences that retell Bertie's experiences. decide whether to use "Too (adj)" or "Not (adj) enough"

1. Bertie's father decided Bertie couldn't be educated by his mother any more. he needed to go to school because he was _____ (old).
2. Bertie was _____ (worried) about his lion to think of anything else.
3. The circus owner preferred young animals, because if they were _____ (big), transport was more expensive and difficult.
4. Bertie felt betrayed and outraged, the news was _____ (sad).
5. Bertie's couldn't stop crying, his mother's words were _____ (comforting).
6. The woman thought that the lion wouldn't survive in the wild because it was _____ (strong).
7. Bertie thought that life in the circus was _____ (good) for his lion.
8. Bertie didn't think of the dangers of leaving the compound. He was _____ (angry).
9. Throwing sticks and stones to the lion was _____ (effective) to scare the lion away.
10. When Bertie fired the rifle the lion stopped following him because it was _____ (scared).