

IDIOMS WITH: "ANIMALS"

Mark

Name: Class: Total:/ 50

I. Fill in the gap with a word from the box:

snake, fish, frog, whale, goose, bird, rat, bee, goat, duck, horse, dog, pig, monkey, shark

1. The party was wonderful. We had a of time.
2. My new manager always thinks he's the 's knee.
3. My boss is such a bag. I don't think I can go on working for her longer.
4. What do you think of the new teacher? I think she is a bit of a cold
5. I've never seen her looking so happy. He's like a with two tails.
6. I want to go to Spain on my holiday, but just before I left for the airport I lost my passport and that really cooked my
7. It really gets my, the way she keeps interrupting all the time.
8. I don't like him, I don't respect him and I don't give a 's what he thinks.
9. She has taken to teaching like a to water.
10. Many people believe that the "Seinfeld" television series jumped the after its fifth season, but it hung on for several more.
11. Can I have a glass of water? I have got a in my throat.
12. Did you hear that Daria's best friend stole money from her bank account? What a in the grass.
13. It's a simple job, but I made a 's ear of it.
14. He thinks, he's better than us. I wish he would get off his high
15. I live on the 15th floor of a tower block, so I have a 's eye view of the town.

II. Fill in the gap with a word of ANIMALS:

1. I don't trust Eric when he says he's working late. To be honest I smell a
2. While we are in town doing our shopping, let's go and see my mother. That way we can kill two with one stone.
3. I only started my new job and I still feel like a out of water.
4. I am so hungry. I could eat a
5. You can advise Joe but I am afraid it will just be water off a 's back.
6. After years of silence, they are beginning to protest. It seems the will turn.
7. In the old day, children learn their lessons -fashion.
8. Don't be such an eager, we have plenty of time to complete the task.
9. We hope we will a thousand during the next sales competition.
10. Mom has a memory like an, so ask her what Joe's phone number is.

11. It's time to take the by the horns and get this job done.
12. I'd love to be a on the wall when they meet for a private talk.
13. Sheila's a bird really. She likes to spend her free time around the house or in the garden.
14. Even though we're all talented, it's always our youngest brother who gets the 's share of our parents' praise and attention.
15. I've been on a wild chase all over the town looking for that new book.
16. Don't have a, man! I was just making a suggestion.
17. Barbara has always bossed everyone around, but today in the meeting Caitlin stood up to her. The has turned!
18. Toyota has been the 800-pound of Japanese auto manufacturing for many years, but they've run into trouble with safety devices.
19. When my car broke down in a bad neighborhood, I felt like a sitting, just waiting to get robbed.
20. I think we're backing the wrong in supporting Jones for the job. The boss seems to have made up his mind to hire Sanchez.
21. The boss's son is a in the henhouse. He does no actual work, and all he does is stir up problems.
22. Sorry about all the emails. I'm just trying to get my in a row before I go on vacation.
23. I know the professor is going to argue with my position. But don't worry – I'm loaded for
24. Doctors often prescribe antibiotics even for minor ailments. They're trying to kill a fly with an gun.
25. She's a good mechanic. Changing a tire is like shooting in a barrel, for her.
26. At first my marriage was all and rainbows, but then reality set in.
27. I was sick as a after Man United lost last night.
28. My dad was mad as a after I crashed his car.
29. If you want to reach the island with the treasure, you've got to swim with for a while.
30. You're only 22- the world is your Don't feel you have to get married now.
31. Well, I'll be a 's uncle. - Shane actually managed to get his movie made.
32. On a we decided to go to the seacoast for the weekend.
33. You haven't even been accepted to the university, and you're already picking out classes? That's putting the cart before the
34. All the boys want to take her on a date, she can have the pick of the
35. My boyfriend complains when I go out, but then I found out he went out with his friends every night this week. What's good for the is good for the gander.