

We

She

you

They

It

He

You

Personal Pronouns

The collage consists of ten cartoon illustrations arranged around the central title. Each illustration shows a young boy with blonde hair wearing a green shirt and blue pants, using a personal pronoun to refer to someone or something. The pronouns are written in speech bubbles above the boy. The illustrations are as follows:

- Top left: The boy points to himself, with the pronoun "I" in the speech bubble.
- Top right: The boy points to a family (a man, a woman, and a child), with the pronoun "they" in the speech bubble.
- Middle left: The boy points to a girl with red hair, with the pronoun "she" in the speech bubble.
- Middle center: The boy points to a girl with dark hair, with the pronoun "she" in the speech bubble.
- Middle right: The boy points to a family (a man, a woman, and a child), with the pronoun "they" in the speech bubble.
- Bottom left: The boy points to an older man, with the pronoun "he" in the speech bubble.
- Bottom center-left: The boy points to a cat, with the pronoun "it" in the speech bubble.
- Bottom center-right: The boy points to a family (a man, a woman, and a child), with the pronoun "they" in the speech bubble.
- Bottom right: The boy points to a family (a man, a woman, and a child), with the pronoun "they" in the speech bubble.

